A BAD MEXICAN

Santiago Chavez Came Near Having His Light Put Out.

Just before dark Thursday evening the telephone informed the police station that a drunken Mexican had gone crazy in the Cottage hotel bar room and was threatening to do violence to everybody in that neighborhood. The patrol wagon and two or three officers responded at once. When the officers arrived the bartender told them their man, Santiago Chavez, was on the floor inside, and dead. Our New Stock of

EVENING GOWNS

Tailor-Made Suits and
Waists will be on display during this opening.

THE foremost millinery makers as well as the fashion creators of the world have contributed of their best for this event. It will be a style show as decreed by custom, and one befitting the season, correctly reflecting the autumnal modes in shapes, fabrics and all accessories down to minutest details. But it will be something more than a style show. It will be a comprehensive, representative exhibit of new millinery in all departments—a merchandise event worthy of the occasion, signaling the supremacy of this well known mercantile institution in everything that ladies wear.

FINISHED HATS.

New Effects, Moderate Prices.

An interesting feature of our opening display of models in trimmed millinery is the unusual completeness of the stock. Every conceit now in favor is shown, including many effective novelties in shapes and shades in the new, soft colorings.

Another feature, and one not less important, is the absence of the prohibitory prices that usually prevail on high-grade merchandise. We realize the vital importance of having prices as well as merchandise right. A practical expression of this will be found in the moderate prices at which these are offered.

A splendid assortment of new flowers and fancy feathers for fall trimmings is a feature of this event.
